Grayling Fish Planted Again In AuSable, Manistee Rivers

A British Columbian MacKenzie River strain of grayling fish were planted in the Manistee River Monday and in the AuSable Tuesday. The DNR planted 9,700 grayling near the M-72 Bridge in the Manistee and planted 12,900 near Commins Flat by Mio.

Dave Smith, of the DNR Mio office, said the planting of a lake strain of grayling last year was not successful. Summer surveys failed to find any of the grayling left.

Stop Smoking Seminar Scheduled For Grayling High School April 19

The cost of the seminar, which will begin at 7:00 p.m., is $35 per person. To pre-register for the class, call 348-7641 and leave your name and telephone number.

The Stop Smoking Seminar will be followed at 8:30 p.m. by a Weight Loss Seminar which is designed to assist you in achieving your desire to lose weight. The price of this seminar is also $35 per person. You may pre-register for the Weight Loss Seminar by calling 348-7641 also.

The DNR will be offering state lands again this year for firewood cutting. Noncommercial firewood permits will be available April 1 through December 31. Hardwood permits cost $10 and expire after 90 days. Free permits, also 90 day expiration, are available for those who would like jack pine only.

Firewood may be cut only from down trees and tops, or from standing trees that are completely dead (no leaves - bark falling off). Cutting on open timber sale contract areas is not allowed. Contact the Grayling DNR office to see if recently cut over areas are open for firewood cutting.

If you have questions on any of the firewood permit regulations, stop by or call the local DNR office at 348-6371.

Crawford AuSable, COOR Millages On April 13 Ballot

Crawford AuSable voters will have 3 millage proposals before them on the April 13th ballot.

The Crawford AuSable School District has two millage proposals on the ballot — one for 21.85 mills and one for 1.00 mill. The Crawford Oscoda Ogemaw Roscommon (C.O.O.R.) Intermediate School District has one proposal on the ballot for 1.00 mill.

The C.O.O.R. proposal would increase the current 3/4 mill levy for the education of handicapped persons by an additional mill. C.O.O.R. has operated for 20 years on the same millage.

Peter Holley, C.O.O.R. Superintendent, said part of the new funds would be used to replace six portable classrooms which are nearly 25 years old. Remaining funds would be used to offset increased cost in special education.

Holley said that C.O.O.R. has no students of its own but provides services to 946 students from six local school districts. The local districts have the legal obligation to provide special education and they contract with C.O.O.R. to provide the services.

This year the six local districts will pay about $1.5 million to C.O.O.R. If the C.O.O.R. millage passes, it will reduce the local district's expenditures for special education.

Crawford AuSable has approximately 150 special education students. Students as young as three years old are enrolled in some C.O.O.R. special programs. Some training continues for students as old as 26 years.

PROPOSITION I

The first Crawford AuSable proposal asks for 21.85 mills for 5 years. Part of this, 17.9 mills, would be a renewal of millage expiring this June. The remainder, an increase of 3.95 mills, would be partially offset to taxpayers by a reduction of 1.25 mills in the debt retirement millage (the millage assessed to pay off the district's four buildings).

Proposal I will continue existing programs plus allow additional sections of elementary classes to handle increased enrollment.

PROPOSITION II

Proposition II requests one mill for 5 years to restore previously cut programs and add additional ones.

Proposal II would restore programs cut in 1981 including high school and middle school vocal music and a high school library assistant. It would also restore maintenance contracts on heating and ventilating equipment.

Proposal II would add an Elementary counseling program and maintenance projects including Grayling Elementary and high school paving, playground improvements, bus replacement, and energy management.

Three polling places will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Wednesday, April 13, the Grayling Middle School, the Frederic Elementary School, and the Lovells Township Hall.

Governor Cites Grayling As Example of Strong Forest Products Industry

A strong forest products industry is critical to Michigan's economic future, Gov. James Blanchard told industry leaders at the Governor's Conference on Michigan's Forest Resources in Lansing March 24.

"You don't have to be a Philadelphia lawyer to figure out the future of this state is in a diversified economy, including forestry," Blanchard said.

Blanchard said diversification is working. He said Michigan is 25% less dependent on the automobile industry than at the beginning of the decade, and "closing of auto plants no longer means depression for the entire state." More than 1.5 billion new dollars have been invested in forest products, plus additional planned construction and expansions.

"Forest products are the wave of the future," he said.

The Governor's examples of a turned-around economy included Grayling which he said lost its main industry in 1978 with the closing of Bear Archery and employment for 300. Grayling and Crawford County is now a vital community with four major forest products manufacturers, including Weyerhaeuser, Georgia Pacific, Custom Forest Products and AJD Forest Products, the Governor said.

Boy Scouts Continue Area Newspaper Drive

The Boy Scout Troop 979 Newspaper Drive is still going strong, and by all indications will continue to do so. The newspaper drive, which includes the collection of old newspapers, computer paper, and cardboard has been averaging about ten semi-trailer loads per year with each load running at about twenty tons.

Troop 979 presently operates three drop sites, the Grayling Township Refuse Transfer site, the South Branch Dump Site, and the semi-trailer at Goodale's Mino-Storage located in the Grayling Industrial Park.

3 Orphan Bears May Find New Mothers in Wilds

The three orphan bear cubs may be returned to the wild, local Conservation Officer Bruce Patrick said Monday.

The DNR will try to place the young cubs with wild bears in a Michigan not yet out of hibernation. If the effort works, the cubs will probably have to be split up, Patrick said.

Three cubs in a litter is extremely rare. Two cubs is usually the maximum.

The DNR initially thought the cubs could not be returned to the wild because they had lost their fear of humans. But the cubs are young enough — only two months — to try the re-introduction to the wilds.

While the cubs head for the woods, a Bay City man, Brendan LaRue, 27, was charged with illegally killing the mother of the cubs and illegally possessing parts of a bear.

The man told the DNR the black bear attacked him while rabbit hunting in a swamp near the AuSable in South Branch Twp. He said he shot the bear in self defense.

The cubs were discovered in a phone booth at McManisters Bridge following an anonymous tip to the RAP hotline.

Conservation officers were led to the suspect following another telephone call to the RAP line.

If convicted of illegally killing a bear, a person faces a mandatory 5 days in jail, fines of $200 to $1,000, loss of all hunting licenses for three years, plus $1,500 restitution for the animal.

LaRue was charged in 83rd District Court Tuesday. He acknowledged killing the bear and removing its head and claws. DNR officers said he led them to the remainder of the bear's carcass and is cooperating with the investigation.

GHS Sophomore Selected To Represent Michigan At Leadership Conference

By Nancy Lemmen

Sophomore Anne Petrosky didn't think she was going to be selected as the Michigan representative to the 1988 International Hugh O'Brien Youth Leadership Seminar. It was enough just to be at the state HOBY conference as the Grayling High School representative.

"Just before they announced the winner, I looked at my mom and dad and thought, 'Why couldn't I have won this so they would know what I'd done all week-end? They were the first people I thought of when I won.'"

Anne, who is president of the Class of 1990 for the second year in a row, was selected as GHS's representative to the annual state HOBY seminar, held this year at Shanty Creek Resort in Bellaire. What came as a shock to her — but surely not to those who know her as a strong leader in school and community activities — is that she was chosen out of a field of 135 HOBY ambassadors from around the state to represent Michigan at the St. Louis, Missouri, International HOBY Seminar from July 29 to August 5.

Said Anne, "I wasn't even nervous when they announced the alternate, because I didn't think I had a chance. I'm from such a small town and all the other girls who were finalists had 4.00 grade point averages."

But leaders don't have to come from large cities and they don't have to earn all A's. Anne's course selection, which includes advanced studies, geometry, biology, American literature and global issues, and her extra-curricular activities, which include SADD, basketball, ski and football teams and church confirmation class, helped to influence the judges.

They were also impressed by Anne's participation over the three-day seminar — the questions she asked speakers, her essay on peer pressure, her impromptu speech on

State School Finance Reform Won't Pass In Time For 1988-89

Although school finance reform is a hot item in Lansing right now, Crawford AuSable school officials say none of the reform proposals can be passed in time for the 1988-89 school year.

The earliest a state reform package could help is the 1989-90 school year, local officials say.

From the beginning of a statewide push for school finance reform two years ago, Crawford AuSable School District has been at the forefront.

The Crawford AuSable Board of Education has discussed state proposals at almost every meeting since August of 1986, and the board has authorized Superintendent Kent Reynolds to serve on state commissions and committees.

From August, 1986, to Feb., 1987, Reynolds went twice a month to Lansing to serve on the Senate Property Tax Commission. Senator Connie Binsfeld appointed Reynolds to the Commission and has communicated regularly with him since for his opinion and the school board's opinion on reform proposals.

Reynolds has also served on the Michigan Out Of Formula Districts Association's property tax commission analyzing proposals. He was picked with three other superintendents from this group to establish a joint position on proposals with the In Formula Districts group.

Reynolds also chaired a Northern Michigan Superintendent Association subcommittee studying the proposals.

"The Crawford AuSable School Board is trying to do something about school finance reform," said Reynolds.

A proposal passed by the Senate March 16 would:

- 1) Increase sales and use tax from 4 to 6 percent.
- 2) Reduce school operating taxes 50 percent for residential and agricultural property and 30% for industrial and commercial property. The state would reimburse local schools for the lost tax revenues.
- 3) Require 12 percent of state's general fund be spent for K-12 schools.

Papers may be left at the semi-trailer anytime, and at the township sites during regular dumping hours. All the work involved in transporting the papers from the drop sites to the

to be a leader in a group of leaders," enthused Anne.

By Sunday morning, after two intense days listening to three motivational speakers and eight panels, the counseling staff narrowed down the number of potential international seminar representatives to 17 people. On Sunday morning, Anne and the others were pulled from a speakers' panel to be interviewed by three counselors.

Later, at the final banquet, attended by HOBY ambassadors and their parents, the male and female winners were announced. "I cried when they said my name," she admits. "I can't imagine anything greater than representing Michigan at the international conference."

The HOBY experience, though a brief three days, is intense, and great friendships are made with the help of the motivational speakers, who, in Anne's words, "brought us all together." One of them, Jim Tuman, who speaks annually at HOBY and visited

GHS two years ago, she describes as "the best I've ever heard."

When the time came to depart, nobody wanted to leave. She says all the ambassadors understood and liked each other and everybody knew about everything that is going on in the world. But she's buoyed up by the knowledge that HOBY doesn't end. There's an alumni association and a reunion in June. She plans to be a junior counselor next year and a senior counselor when in college.

Now it's back home, where Anne has always been recognized as a natural leader. "I like it when freshmen I don't know come up to me and ask what they should do about something. They know I exist as a leader."

Anne, the daughter of Luke and Pauline Petrosky, credits her family and friends and teachers with helping her develop her leadership skills. "They have always just expected me to be a leader." It looks as though they know a leader when they see one.

Diamond Jubilee Essay Contest Offers $600 in Saving Bonds

Grayling Middle and High School students can win $600 in saving bonds in the Camp Grayling Diamond Jubilee essay contest beginning this week.

Middle school and high school students may participate in separate contests with a $200 savings bond awarded for the outstanding essay at each school level. Two honorable mention essays at each school will be awarded $50 savings bonds. There will be no competition between participating school districts. School systems eligible for the contest include Kalkaska, Gerrish-Higgins, Houghton Lake, Gaylord and Crawford-Ausable.

The contest is sponsored by the Camp Grayling Minuteman Foundation Education Committee. Winners will be recognized and presented their saving bonds on Friday, June 24. The students will be honored on that date between 2 and 4:30 p.m. during the Michigan National Guard Pass in Review.

The essays must be 500 words, typed or neatly printed. The papers will be based upon the following information: In 1787, our forefathers drafted the United States Constitution to... "provide for the common defense... and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity..." The essay topic will be "How do you see the role of the Military today in achieving these two goals?"

Applications will be available at school building offices.

Northern Views

By Jon Thompson

FRANCIS HARRINGTON, of Grayling, is back after spending two special weeks in California visiting his sister. It was the first time in 60 years the two have been together.

Although the trip was Harrington's first on an airplane, all went well despite one flight cancellation at Los Angeles because of fog.

"The reunion was very nice," he said. "I want to thank everyone involved in making the reunion possible."

Harrington said he also enjoyed the California weather, the flowers in bloom, and the mountains on his first trip west.

"It was tough coming back home to the snow and cold weather," he said.

His sister also sent the following letter:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the Avalanche and its readers for their kindness and generosity. I have had no contact with any member of my family since we left the Bay City Orphanage in 1928, when I was four years old.

I have tried to locate and contact some family members for well over thirty years to no avail. Thanks to the Avalanche, my brother Frank and I not only located each other but he visited my family and myself in California for two weeks.

Sincerely,
Leona Griffith and Family

by Richard Millman

IF YOU START to feel an irony deficiency in your system, just pay some heed to politics, especially as it is performed during a presidential election year.

I mean, here are the Michigan Republicans, who try their damndest to increase their influence on the selection of their national ticket. They stretch out their precinct delegate selection process, move up their state convention to be the first in the nation, and try all sort of gimmicks to attract national attention.

It sort of works, but yet it doesn't. A lot of national election money was spent by Republican bigwigs in Michigan, and a lot of attention was paid by two or three candidates.

But the results? That's another story.

After Michigan Republicans met in their January convention — the first state in the nation to pick delegates to a national nominating convention — the results had all the national impact of a spit into the wind. They meant nothing as far as national influence was concerned.

AND THEN THERE were the Michigan Democrats. They stuck with their existing system of decision-making, with their caucuses being held after the Iowa caucuses, after the New Hampshire primary, after Super Tuesday primaries or caucuses held simultaneously in 20 states. Democrats changed nothing.

And the results? What Michigan Democrats decided will have a lot more influence on the eventual outcome of their nominating process than their Republican counterparts, despite all the maneuvering and convolutions by the state's GOP.

Ah, politics. It's full of irony.

But then ... so is life itself.

JACKSON'S ACTIONS — One of the most accepted tenets of usual political wisdom this election year is that the Rev. Jesse Jackson won't be the Democratic nominee for president, despite strong showings in state after state, and his growing and impressive total of committed delegates and ringing endorsements.

So why is Jesse Jackson running for president? What does Mr. Jackson really want? These are two of the most frequently asked rhetorical questions this political year.

Try this line of reasoning on for size:

There has never been in this nation an unquestioned leader of black America. There has not been a Number One spokesperson for blacks.

The Rev. Martin Luther King probably came the closest, but he didn't quite reach the point where what he said and did were taken as gospel for what black America believed, or what black America wanted, or what black America would do.

Mr. King was one of a group of black leaders during his lifetime, and he was elevated to pre-eminence by his assassination.

Since Mr. King's time, there has been a void in American black political and social leadership. There have been many contenders for this role, but none has emerged as the single most important voice for black America.

No more. The Rev. Jesse Jackson now holds that position, regardless of how the rest of the Democratic nominating process turns out.

In at least one sense, Jesse Jackson already may have won his campaign.

BYRD'S ADVICE — Wisdom is not necessarily associated with the musings of Sen. Robert Byrd of West Virginia, Democratic leader in the Senate.

He's noted for his down home fiddling, and his political acumen in the hills of West Virginia, and his political acumen in operating in the halls of congress.

But he had some darned good advice for politicians of all kinds recently, when he urged the Democratic presidential candidates to avoid political infighting.

"Do not run a campaign that would embarrass your mother," Sen. Byrd advised.

In my book, that thought easily qualifies as wisdom.

County Treasurer Says Many Residents Not Claiming Property Tax Refunds

March 31, 1988

To all Crawford County Taxpayers:

Please be aware that the article in the March 31st Avalanche regarding the Circuit Breaker or Homestead Tax Credit system can be important to you.

In Michigan it is a FACT that no one pays more than 3 1/2% of their income in property taxes. Anyone paying over 3 1/2% is entitled to a steady Tax Credit form with the State of Michigan. Those persons who file a Michigan Income Tax return can attach the Homestead form and file them together. The Homestead credit is filed refund from the State of Michigan of either ALL of the excess, or a portion of the excess, depending upon age and claimant category.

In order to receive the refund, you must file a Homestead form for all other claimants.

Every year people are concerned about taxes and how the people on fixed incomes are going to pay their bills. This is one of several procedures already in place to help people with their property taxes.

If you have questions about the program, ask your accountant, your Township Supervisor, the Commission on Aging, or call my office at the County Building. I have assisted persons in claiming refunds for several years. Help is there - all you have to do is ask someone who knows how the system works.

It is my belief that many people are not receiving refunds they are entitled to. If people would realize the benefit of this tax refund program, I think we would all have a different feeling when being asked to support millage issues of various kinds.

Get with the Tax Refund System! It is your money!

Green Is Color of New Life and Freedom

Dear Jon:

There is something terrifying about a teacher, a capable but crafty wordsmith, a man who would willingly drive satirical wedges into the heart of our community. Yet even more chilling, more disheartening, is how this same man can lounge nonchalantly in front of a world map and stare back at all of us while we choke upon his mocking pokes and jokes about respected neighbors and professional people; men and women who obviously find protecting the very world this map represents no matter of silly jest. The carnage of war has never been humorous, at least not to those who have had the misfortune to die defending something greater than Mr. Delp's odd right to attack reputations while others have the audacity to call it "daring honesty and concern for others."

Gad Jon! Jim Fitzgerald would be scrambling around for his throwup pot. I, however, will whittle my quill and dip deeply into a decoction of nutgalls and logwood...prepare!

Mr. Delp's unconscionable perversions might delight those of his own warped persuasion, but what "caring" person can feel triumph or satisfaction knowing what his cutting sarcasm is or might be doing to the young children of National Guards? How many more young people of National Guard families will be ridiculed at school and experience the humiliation of being told that their fathers, mothers, grandfathers are "polluters" and contributors of "sewage and sewage" (sic)?

Should he feel no remorse, then maybe Delp would prefer to discuss his ridiculous T-shirt plans with the widow of Sgt. James McIntire, a terrific soldier who very recently lost his life in Grayling while serving his country. Or, Delp could share some of his noxious nonsense with my daughter, Lt. L. Smith, distinguished military graduate MSU 1987, prior to her going on a "working vacation," destination Lebanon; or, my nephew, when and if he returns from Honduras; or, my son, who is between engagements right now, military police are always in such demand. Of course, should Delp actually feel self-reproach, get serious and want to become more than blissfully acquainted with the real world around him, he could discuss the facts-of-life with my husband, a man who has given 33 years to the service of this country. And how ironic, my husband spends his entire life defending the rights of people like Delp so they can take their unctuous verbiage and smear it around with contempt but without fear of personal reprisal.

Silliness aside: Had Mike Delp chosen to serve something larger than his bulimous ego, say the community of Grayling, then I would not be writing this letter. However, because so many are so busy defending Delp's right to write whatever his sickness suggests, then I'm ready to battle him on the written page. I am not physically fit to do what this country asks of my children but I am able to spar with those who would leave our nation grievously unre-pared; to battle those arch-awfuls who would cast insidious doubt upon my town and tarnish those who are, were and always will be proud to wear the uniform of this fine nation. They know, all of these people, that green is not only the color of new life, but it is the color of freedom...ours and even that of the "Northern Nutcase!"

A Community Is Only As Strong As Its Schools

Many moons ago while planning a move to Grayling a realtor discouraged us from buying a house because it was just over the border in a neighboring school district. He had a concern about it because the district was on half days and provided limited programs. We were impressed, as it was one of his listings. Needless, to say we were grateful. Schools were an important factor.

Last week, more than a decade later, in Lansing at a Governor's conference, Grayling was used as a model of a rural community revitalized. Emphasis was placed on several components necessary to the making of a revitalized and flourishing community. Good Strong Schools as well as diversified industry, retail and service businesses, tourism, good medical care, recreation and churches were cited as the major factors. Crawford County is a prime example of a successful community.

Most often the first inquiries about a community are regarding the schools. Favorable responses lead to questions about the churches, then on to medical care and finally the quality of life and environment. The results are economic growth and community stability. Our Future!

Grayling is flourishing. We are revitalized. We are in a positive mode as we continue upward swings. Weyerhaeuser is expanding, Georgia Pacific Distribution Center is building, Real Estate sales are in the millions, five new businesses are opening on the main street and retail and tourist industries have had one of their best years.

Strong schools are very important to the families of business and industry. Schools and community working together impact today's success and future generations. Last year 70% of our seniors went on to higher levels of education. Some of them will return with professions and skills, continuing the tradition of progress, economic stability and a community with promise. As a community we need to support our schools for the sake of our businesses, our children and our future.

On April 13th - Remember - A Community is as Strong as its Schools and ... the Schools are Only as Strong as the Community allows them to be.

Support your Community and your Schools - Vote Yes! April 13th.

Sincerely,
Luke and Pauline Petrosky

Notes from the Woods

By Nancy Lemmen

"Our third grade son doesn't like to read," said a friend of mind last fall. "Do you have any ideas for us to get him reading?"

"Give him a book," said I.

"I said he doesn't like to read."

"Right. Okay, uh, let me think about it."

And off I ran to my in-laws — one generation of students, two generations of teachers, three generations of readers.

They didn't let me down. Unlike me, they were full of ideas:

Read to him when he's young. Read to him over and over, said niece Heather. Added Mom, reading to young children is as valuable as having them read themselves.

Have his eyes tested. Maybe he can't see the words properly.

Limit the hours he can watch television daily. That way, he'll have to choose other activities (like reading).

Let him earn television time through reading.

Get him a library card.

Buy him the "Encyclopedia Brown" series, said Heather.

Allot twenty minutes per day for him to read.

Don't pressure him to read, said Mom. Make it fun and enjoyable.

Read about famous people with the same first name as his.

Pay him per chapter, up to chapter 5. By then, hopefully, he'll be hooked.

Don't give him breakfast until he has read one chapter of a book. Ha, ha.

Read Roald Dahl books to him, said niece Misha.

Leave him alone.

Say things to him that show you value reading. But not too much, emphasize the girls.

Read your own magazines and books in front of him.

Give him copies (originals, if possible) of books you loved at his age.

Ask him for recommendations of books he thinks you should read.

Read the same book he reads and discuss it with him.

Discuss ideas with him from books you are reading.

Do NOT assign book reports, said brother Jeff.

Have books lying around the house.

Buy him a subscription to an age-appropriate magazine, said my sister Sue.

Read and recite poetry to him (from babyhood on), so he grows up liking poetry's music and rhythm.

Start a book for him orally, reading in an interesting, enthusiastic way. Then have him finish the story.

When reading aloud, ask him, "What do you think is going to happen next?"

Ask him to finish the story any way he would like to, either orally or on paper.

Write a family story, said Dad. One person writes the first paragraph, the next person adds a paragraph, and so on.

Show him a picture and have him make up a story that goes with it.

When do you start all this? You can't start too young, said Mom.

Well, I took this list of suggestions back to my friends, who in turn tried a few of them on their son.

By February, they thought I was a miracle worker. "He's reading and liking it! And his grades in two school subjects have jumped from C's to A's."

"It was nothing," I replied modestly.

Well, almost nothing. I do take credit for choosing to marry into a wise family.

Cooperation Needed For Trout Fishing Museum To Avoid Stepping on Toes

Dear Mr. Thompson:

In response to the Ponderings article as it appeared in the March 31, 1988 Avalanche, in late 1987 a small group of people began meeting under the efforts of Mr. Bruce M. Gillis. This ad hoc committee being comprised of avid trout fishermen expressed genuine interests in developing a "National Trout Fishing Museum".

The emphasis was placed on this particular title to distinctly include ALL trout fishing sportsmen, thus, it was hoped, two efforts would be accomplished. These efforts were to provide a community project which would encourage participation from every concept of trout angling, Worm, Spinner, and Artificial Fly. It goes without further explanation to state that recent attention has centered around the latter angling technique, much to the chagrin of a lot of fishing enthusiasts. Additionally, this group hoped to promote Grayling as a trout fishing center of interest and at the same time take advantage of our bountiful natural river resources.

It was only natural that this interest would center around the "Old Fish Hatchery" being that there are those among us who remember it as it was way back when. Being a member of this group I felt comfortable with the idea of promoting my favorite pastime and my hometown community at the same time.

Until January of this year I did not realize that our group's efforts would be misunderstood, misrepresented, or whatever. I have included a copy of a letter directed to Mr. Gillis dated 2-1-88. This letter expressed my concerns after realizing the conflict which our efforts had thus far created. It seems apparent that the letter never accomplished its intended purpose. It would appear that someone should, as Don Geiss' column indicated, "show some cooperation". The Fish Hatchery Committee is a splendid effort, I for one would stand behind their effort and strongly encourage others to do likewise before this wholesome project becomes just another bone of contention.

Bruce:
Pardon me if I am a little negative regarding the National Trout Fishing Museum attempt. From the meeting of Tuesday 1-26-88 I find myself asking the question, who are we offending in our efforts? I believe you will find that we are inadvertently stepping on Mr. Robert Smock's toes, while I realize and agree that the program is a damn good effort it is not going to materialize if Mr. Smock feels we are usurping his position.

In considering the above statement I believe it behooves us to request that representatives of our small group be placed on the County Commissioner's agenda. In this way we will be able to explain our intents and purposes on a first hand basis, this should do one of two things; Either eliminate the need for any future meetings, or establish the fact that our intent is not that of competition but one of community interest. If the latter is the determination we should then have the understanding that we are working in support of the Fish Hatchery Committee with any potential chance for misunderstanding set aside.

Should the Commissioner's place our group on their agenda I will be more than happy to attend the meeting with you. But, in any event, at this point in time I don't hold much hope for constructive gain in our effort until the County Commission and Mr. Smock are assured that we are not a faction to be competed against.

Avalanche Column Upsetting And A Personal Insult

Dear Jon,

I read with mixed emotions the comments and reflections of Mike Delp in this week's Avalanche.

I don't deny Mr. Delp's right to express his opinion or your right to publish it, however I find it quite upsetting and a personal insult to insult my friends who I know personally that have fought in WW II, Korea, and Vietnam and are members of the Michigan National Guard.

In this day and age, it is apparent that patriotism is not fashionable, however the guards people that I know were unfortunate enough not to be able to get a college deferment or run off to Canada or burn their draft cards. They were drafted into dirty wars which only history will reflect the right or wrong to our future generations.

These individuals fought for the right of Mr. Delp to say what he pleases and for you to publish the type of newspaper that you desire.

Although I am a small business person and my weekly advertising does not amount to a large sum of money, I feel obligated in conscience to withdraw my advertising support from your newspaper.

In a community that depends on the military dollar as well as the tourist dollar, I find it difficult to associate with this type of negative attitude. As you are well aware, I do not find the National Guard a perfect organization, but as yet, I have not found one that is.

Robert J. Ruddy

Weary of Being Called Unpatriotic For Caring About Environment, Civilians

I get more than a bit weary of being brandished as Anti-American and unpatriotic by every militarist that cares more about guard "dollars" than environment, inhabitants, and civilian rights.

Those of us who care are as American and as patriotic as any guard member past or present. All we ask is consideration for our rights and some restraint.

Sincerely,
Charles H. Raches Jr.

Defense Forces Require Constant Training To Protect Country

Dear Editor:

Like too many residents of the Grayling area who are concerned about the image, economy and environment of Crawford County, I have kept quiet on the National Guard issue; but the pure unadulterated garbage in the "Upnorth" column in the March 24 issue was too much. And then the "poem" (?) by the same writer went way beyond the limits of truth and dignity.

Many communities, organizations and groups have homecomings or reunions. Why should the guard be any different? Many present and former guards bring their families and vacation in the area. A "Homecoming Week" should bring more of them back which will benefit the camp and the tourist industry.

I have seen instances over the past 33 years where the Guard or individual guards have caused problems. But, I've also seen problems caused by local residents, tourists, motorcycle gangs, etc. So far the area has been equal to the challenge. Why single out the guard? The only humans who never make a mistake are the ones who don't do anything and I have always found guards to be human.

I wonder when Mr. Delp would like the war to start so the guards could go fight. For more than half of them it would be their second or third war. Who knows, Mike Delp's name might even come up to go for his first time. Aggressor nations do not attack countries that are strong enough to defend themselves, and the National Guard is one of the reasons our country is strong enough to defend itself.

There was a time when many of the guards came to camp to play and were in town partying every night and would have required further training, if they had been activated. Now they come and get two weeks of training, which may cause some inconveniences, but we are getting the trained guard we are paying for that are ready to put their lives on the line to protect our lives and way of life.

I hope we have "Total Force Readiness", but if we are going to keep it, ALL parts of our defense forces have to be constantly trained and retrained to keep it. The rules of good english and writing I learned 50 years ago allow me to write and express myself today, but I'd be useless on today's military equipment with what I learned while serving in the Pacific during World War II.

Mr. Delp is certainly right when he says the Reds can read. They certainly enjoy reading articles like his. It was that same kind of writing and thinking that led to our defeat in Vietnam. Nikita Kruchev said they would take us over without firing a shot. All it takes is to see the thinking behind writing like Mike Delp's to see that the reds are making headway.

Can't Congressmen See Unnecessary Military Spending?

The Pentagon, headquarters for the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the Dept. of Defense with its 25,000 employees, has determined that we need 326 bases around the world for training and protection of our interests.

This power structure in the Pentagon is authorized by our representatives of Congress to keep abreast of world problems, military strategies, etc.

To me, 32 different bases seems more than necessary to protect our borders but I cannot second guess or question the findings and reasoning of 25,000 top military people.

What I do find hard to understand is that if these Pentagon "Top Brass" have determined 326 to be the magic number — why we have 4000 different bases and locations?

If 3,674 of these bases are 'unnecessary' in the minds of our military strategists, then why do our elected officials keep funding and supporting them? And why do some military generals say we need to build more and expand further?

Why don't they use the existing forts or bases? Do the field generals, etc., think that they are more knowledgeable than the 25,000 "Top Brass" of the Pentagon??? If they are, then let's get rid of the people in the Pentagon with all their lucrative salaries, fringes, retirements, etc. Either we need them or we don't. Can't our Congressmen see that?

Maybe the politicians are keeping these 3,674 'unnecessary' bases (according to the Pentagon) operating because of the "economic impact" on the community in which they are in. That sounds typical of how politicians operate and act; then they turn around and vote a tax increase on private legitimate business and industry, practically taxing them out of business, to pay for the so-called "economic impact reasoning" and call it "necessary for defense purposes."

I believe the time is long overdue for us and our political leaders to find out the facts before spending more millions just to increase the power and ego of a few.

8th Grader Places 3rd
In State Spelldown

By Nancy Lemmen

Angie Thompson went to the annual State Spelling Bee on March 22 with the goal of improving her performance over last year's eighth place finish. And that she did, finishing a very respectable 3rd in a competition that has never seen a northern Michigan champion and had only three northern Michigan contestants.

The Lawrence Institute of Technology and Detroit News Spelling Bee has been held nearly every year since 1922. Dr. Richard Marburger, President of LIT, opened the 1988 bee by telling participants and audience members that the spelling competition "imbues in students an affection for words. It is not enough to be technically superb; they must also be articulate masters of the English language."

Angie, who was cheered on by a small group of friends and family, competed in a field of 38 spellers. She correctly spelled bonanza, anomaly, euphoric, dauntless, cajolery and percolate, but went down in the seventh round on the word poultice.

The bee opened with a practice round to help contestants to relax a bit; then the first round began with common words presented in non-alphabetical order. By the third round, the pronouncers left the word list in order to test the contestants' ability to spell over simply memorizing correct spellings.

The words got progressively harder with each round. Students were permitted, if necessary, to request word definitions, etymologies, alternate pronunciations, and use in sentences. The word, tensile, for example, caused a problem because the pronouncer said it in a different way than a contestant had learned it.

In the last rounds between the two final contestants, words such as rambunctious, antequate, wheel, ichthosaur, isogeotheism, orrery, saponaceous, hermineutics and xylophagous were spelled correctly.

In order to qualify for the state bee, Angie first won the local and regional spelling competitions. Presently an eighth grader at Grayling Middle School, she is the daughter of Randy and Lynn Thompson, and the granddaughter of Ray and Jean Elsey and Sandy and Jeanne Thompson. GMS Principal Dale Nicholas and GMS English instructor Judith Mesack coordinated the local spelling bee.

White Announces Candidacy For Crawford Sheriff Race

Joseph P. White has announced that he is a candidate for the office of Crawford County Sheriff on the Democratic ticket.

White, 47 years old, has 26 years in law enforcement. He began his career by serving as an auxiliary Grayling Police Officer for two years before accepting a position as patrolman for the Inlay City, Michigan Police Department. In 1962 White left the Inlay City employment returning to Grayling to accept the Grayling City Police Patrolman position. He is married and is the father of two children and grandfather of three.

White left the City Police in 1963 to join the Crawford County Sheriff's Department and remained in that employment through 1984. During his years with the County Sheriff's Department Joe served in every capacity beginning as a road deputy and advancing through corporal, sergeant, lieutenant and undersheriff positions.

Having served under three elected Sheriffs, White was appointed in May 1980 by a special committee to fill the vacancy created when Sheriff Larry C. Haas resigned. White successfully ran as a Democratic candidate for the office of Sheriff in November 1980 and completed his term of office in December 1984.

White is a 1958 graduate of the Crawford AuSable School system. Always interested in educational development, White has attended career schooling whenever available, being one of the first area law enforcement officers to receive the Michigan Law Enforcement Officer Certification in May of 1970.

Always interested in community civic responsibilities, in addition to law enforcement, White has served for twenty years as a volunteer fireman with the Grayling City/Township Fire Department beginning at the bottom of that organization and advancing through their ranks to the level of Fire Chief before leaving the department.

Since completing his term as Crawford County Sheriff in 1984, White has successfully made application to the Michigan State Police for a license to practice as a Pri-ivate Investigator. His activities have been divided between his private practice and serving as a Grayling City Council member. Presently he is fulfilling the council responsibilities of Mayor Pro Tem.

White has also volunteered many hours, utilizing his County Sheriff's experience, in assisting with the development of a Policy and Procedures manual for the Grayling City Police Department.

White says his decision to seek the County Sheriff position in November of this year comes after an in-depth consideration. With his background of experience and training, he believes he can provide the administrative leadership needed to serve Crawford County residents.

Huss Selected All-State

GHS Skiers Receive Honors

Viking skier Julie Huss has been named to the Detroit News All-State High School Ski Team. Her first team Giant Slalom recognition capped the graduating senior's four years of racing with the Grayling Ski Team during which she finished in the top ten her sophomore, junior and seniors years in both the Conference and Regional meets and qualified for both the 1987 and 1988 state finals.

For the first time in recent history, the all-state team was limited solely to a first team. According to coach Mike Wieland, the absence of second team and honorable mention selections most certainly deprived senior Jayson Welser from receiving recognition based upon his 12th place finish in the state meet.

The Grayling Ski Team awards banquet was held the day before the all-state team was announced. Seniors

Julie Huss and Jayson Welser were named the Most Valuable racers of their respective squads with Huss taking top honors for the most team wins and most consistent racer, her times being used in 100% of the season's races while Welser led the boys team in wins and tied for 2nd as its most consistent racer for the year.

For the girls team, Lori Gust was the runner-up for most team wins and tied for 2nd with Anne Petrosky for most consistent while Aimee Rochette was 3rd most consistent. Receiving their first Varsity letters were Missy Gorman, Jennifer Lochner, Nichole Meagher, Aimee Rochette and Caroline Shin.

For the boys team, Tim Hickey was runner-up for the most team wins followed by Sean Isenhauser and Mike McNamara who tied for 3rd place. Tim Hickey was first in team consistency followed by Peter Opperman and Jayson Welser who tied for second and Derrick Christman was third. Receiving their varsity letters were Tony DiPonio, and Peter Opperman.

Finally four year varsity awards were presented to Julie Huss, Jayson Welser, Mike Burkley and Flaskie Robins.

Coach Wieland noted that graduation will cost the team its top two skiers, Huss and Welser, and the solid dependability of Mike Burkley, Flaskie Robins and Caroline Shin but that he will be able to return an experienced group of racers to the slopes next season led by juniors, Lori Gust and Tim Hickey.

I Bet You Didn't Know

Brought To You
By Brad Scheer

Here's a football oddity that seems impossible, but it actually happened...A player once ran for only 5 yards - and yet scored 4 touchdowns! It happened Nov. 4, 1973 when Bobby Douglass of the Chicago Bears carried the ball only 4 times - but one carry was a 2-yard touchdown run, and the other 3 were each 1-yard TD runs...His total yardage gained rushing was 5 yards, but he had scored 4 touchdowns!

Of all the coaches in major-college football history, which one had the most unbeaten-untied teams in regular season play?...Answer is Bear Bryant who had 7 different teams that went unbeaten-untied in the regular season...Next come Joe Paterno and Gil Dobie, with 6 each.

Ever hear of the man who was known as the "Iron Man of Football"?...He was Leo Lynch who - amazingly-played EVERY minute of EVERY game for Villanova University for 4 YEARS from 1914 through 1917 - never coming out for a substitute on ANY play in ANY game!...That's hard to believe, but true.

I bet you didn't know...that Scheer Motors has a great new inventory of cars and trucks that are available for immediate delivery. You can just come in, pick one out and take it home the same day! Now isn't that easy? Let us show you. See Scheer Motors in Grayling today!

4 Vikings Receive All-League Honors

Seniors Jeff Palmer and John Kinnee received Michigan Huron Shores Conference All-League honors. Senior Todd Hull and junior Bud Ostrowski received Honorable Mention.

Palmer was 9th in league scoring with a 14.8 average.

Kinne was 10th in the league with a 13.3 average and led the team with 239 rebounds. Hull was 15th in the league with an 11.4 average. Ostrowski led the team with 115 assists.

At the team banquet March 23, Palmer was voted MVP by the players. Hull and Kinnee won the Captains award. Todd McLane won the 110 percent award.

Marty Jung and Jeremy Mead won the Most Improved award. McLane won the coach's award for acting most like an athlete on and off the floor. Hull won the coach's award for acting most like a coach on the floor.

Hull also set a GHS record for most three-point shot attempts (69) and most three-point shots made (23).

There are lots of places to open an IRA.
Here's why the smart money is coming to NBD.

Our rates are competitive—and simple to understand.

Straight talk is what we give you. We make it clear what your IRA will earn start to finish. With our competitive rates, we don't have to play around with short-term bonus deals that complicate your thinking. We give you the unvarnished facts, and let your intelligence take it from there.

Our choices are easy to compare.

We offer a full line of IRA plans. You can choose from a liquid investment account or maturities ranging from 6 months to 10 years. Our staff can help you compare and decide which is best for you. And when you see how our IRAs stack up against other banks and savings and loans, we think you'll see the wisdom of choosing NBD.

And those are just a few of the ways we make it smart to choose your IRA at NBD.

Come in and see us. Our offices are conveniently located...and you can find us without a lot of running around. Yes, we know how hard it can be sometimes to compare and choose an IRA. But call or visit your local NBD branch for IRA information—and see what a smart move you can make.

WHAT IS PROPOSITION II ? ?

Millage Prop. II is not for additional or "frill" programs. This is a request to restore long standing programs and levels of service that were cut in 1981.

It would restore vocal music at the secondary level, provide for high school library staffing, allow for much needed maintenance, and provide for counseling at the elementary level. Considerable amounts of basic maintenance were either cut or postponed previously.

Ours is one of the very few school districts in Michigan that do not offer vocal music at the secondary level. In years past, under the able direction of Peg Milnes, Grayling was always a leader in vocal music. This is a tradition that hopefully can be recaptured.

Elementary counseling has become the norm rather than the exception in education today. The need for this service in today's society could not be more evident. This is recognized by accreditation people as a vital element in any good, basic education program.

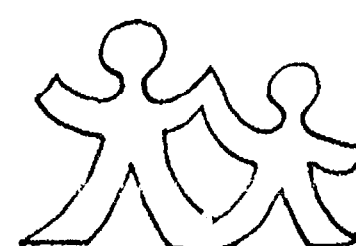

Maintenance, vocal music, library and custodial staffing....do these sound like "FRILLS?" Certainly not. The simple truth is that Proposition II will cost the average taxpayer ONLY $20 !!

NOT A BAD INVESTMENT, WHEN YOU THINK ABOUT IT.

Proposition II deserves our support on April 13.

Bits of Talk

By Sandy McAnallen

Mrs. Betty Trudgeon has returned to Grayling after spending a warm winter in Sun City, Arizona. Her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Trudgeon, of Detroit met her at Detroit Metro Airport and brought her home to Grayling.

Chris McLaughlin, daughter of Gary and Pat McLaughlin, is a sophomore at Grand Valley State College, majoring in photography. She is spending this semester in Grayling and will be returning to college in the fall. Chris is the Chairman of the Artrain committee.

A surprise telephone call to the Bovee's last week was from Albert Markby from California requesting a school picture. Albert left Grayling in the 40's to spend 23 years in the service before retiring and he has completed 20 years at St. Francis Hospital. He has kept in touch with Grayling through the Avalanche which he still takes after all these years. He and his wife of 45 years live at 1601 Grand Ave., Santa Barbara, CA 93103.

The all-school picture of 1940-41 is still available. Contact Fay Bovee, 348-7017.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, April 5, at 2 p.m. at the First Congregational Church, Roscommon with Tom Mayne, officiating. Burial was in Riverside Cemetery, Albion, Michigan.

wishing to send a card, her address is 1736 Lester Place, Piscataway, New Jersey, 08854.

The Northwood Symphony Orchestra concert Kirtland Community College was well attended on Saturday evening, March 26, in spite of bad weather and the fact that most Roscommon people were in Ann Arbor at the final basketball games. The Orchestra concluded their program with "Peter and the Wolf" which was the highlight of the concert and Joplin's toe-tapping "Entertainers."

Pete Stephan, Grayling's Police Chief, was released from St. Mary's Hospital in Saginaw on Saturday, March 26, 1988, after surgery. He is recuperating quickly and will probably be back to work soon. I saw him at the Easter Parade lineup in the Grayling State Bank parking lot and he seemed to be doing quite well.

The Easter Parade and Easter Egg hunt drew many people to Uptown Grayling the Saturday before Easter. A mother asked me at the bank parking lot what was going on. I explained to her that an Easter Parade for kids was about to commence. She had just stopped in town and decided to let her two boys join in the parade. How nice that visitors from out of town can arrive and find an event like the parade and egg hunt to join in with. There were over 350 colored pictures displayed on various store windows adding to the Easter spirit of Uptown Grayling. Thanks go to the Grayling K mart for donating over 300 colored plastic Easter eggs for the Easter celebration. Thanks also go to the Grayling Promotional Association for their organization and contributions to the Parade and Hunt.

Would You Like The FACTS ? ?

FACT: The school operational millage is due to expire in June. It needs to be renewed in order to open the doors.

FACT: Proposition I is for the RENEWAL OF THE EXISTING PROGRAM. It does not request or anticipate additional programs or services.

FACT: Failure to approve Proposition I will result in a $510,000 deficit by the end of the next school year. According to statute, schools are NOT ALLOWED to operate at a deficit.

FACT: The schools have operated on the same millage level since 1979. Every effort has been made to provide quality education at the LEAST POSSIBLE COST.

FACT: Millage Proposition II is designed to RESTORE certain programs that for many years were offered, such as vocal music. It would also RESTORE certain maintenance projects that had to be cut in previous years, as well as provide library staffing and elementary counseling.

FACT: According to County Treasurer Joe Wakeley, NOT ONE primary residence has been lost due to tax sale in at least three years, and probably much further back than that.

FACT: Crawford AuSable Schools operate in the LOWER 1/3 of all districts in the state, in terms of per pupil expenditures. Approval of the proposed millages will allow the schools to continue to operate at current levels.

FACT: Failure to approve the proposed millages could result in reduction of curriculum, transportation, and much more needed maintenance. These reductions in curriculum could seriously jeopardize accreditation, band, extra-curricular activities, and quality of program.

FACT: Current legislative proposals regarding reform of school finance are just that—PROPOSALS. They have nothing to do with school finance in the foreseeable future.

FACT: From the standpoint of maintenance, we have a 17 million dollar investment that we need to protect. Passage of the millages will make sure our investment is well maintained.

NOW THAT YOU HAVE THE FACTS . . . . .

PLEASE do the right and responsible thing. VOTE YES on April 13 to keep our fine schools operating. Our schools are something in which we can all take pride.

The Gospel of John

Part 29

Failure of Judaism

The ultimate failure of Judaism was manifested in the crucifixion of Jesus Christ, but prior to this event, Christ foretold them where they made the wrong turn. They saw the Holy Scriptures as a divine standard which confirmed their own righteousness, rather than a perfect standard which condemned them as sinners and pointed them to Christ. "Search the scriptures: for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me. And ye will not come to me, that ye might have life." (John 5:39, 40).

They were motivated out of self honor and self love rather than love of God. Christ received His honor from God only, while the leaders of Judaism sought honor from each other. (John 5:41, 44). While they rejected Christ because He came in the Father's name, they would accept an anti-christ who would identify with their honor system, rather than with God. Since love of God is the greatest commandment of Old Testament Law, (Deuteronomy 6:4, 5), this rebuke is sharp.

The Jewish leaders thought Jesus Christ was just trying to condemn them, but He reminded them that they stood condemned by their own leader Moses. "Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father: there is one that accuseth you, even Moses, in whom ye trust." (John 5:45). Had they believed Moses they would have accepted Jesus Christ as their Messiah. "For had ye believed Moses, ye would have believed me: for he wrote of me." (John 5:46). Finally, Jesus Christ equated the writings of Moses in the Old Testament with His own Words. "But if ye believe not his writings, how shall ye believe my words?" (John 5:47).

Those today who reject the words of Moses in the first eleven chapters of Genesis are in just as great danger as the Jews of Christ's day. All atheism, marxism, and other religious, governmental, and philosophical systems which challenge the literal words of Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers and Deuteronomy, cannot claim to believe or follow the words of Jesus Christ. The first eleven chapters of Genesis teach most important Bible doctrines in embryo. There we find the Godhead or theism, creation by God's word, man created in God's image, man's fall and depravity through sin and rebellion against God, free enterprise and capital punishment in government, God's punishment of sin in the universal flood, and the promise of a Messiah.

The words of Moses and Christ stand or fall together. You cannot call Moses a liar and claim Christ is your Lord. You cannot justify atheism, evolution, and marxism as a Christian.

Scripture Reference:

John 20:19-31

The account of Christ's second appearance in the presence of the unbelieving Thomas, interests us from two points of view. It stresses the physical reality of the Risen Christ whatever concept we might try to have of the condition of the Lord's glorified body.

Jesus had said already, 'Have faith in God and faith in Me.' We find a response to this word of the Master in Thomas' explanation, 'My Lord and My God.' Between Christ's words and Thomas' words quite a change has taken place. We might think of John's Gospel as tracing the steps from unbelief to belief. Many Jews will remain stuck in unbelief. The disciples will have faith but only after numerous difficulties.

Thomas is one of those who is likely to challenge things and does not give easily. We can remember that he regarded Jesus' trip to the tomb of Lazarus as a fool's errand and that he was not afraid to tell our Lord that he asked himself where his adventure was going.

It is now this same Thomas who expresses the most magnificent act of faith of the entire New Testament. This demonstrates at once both the generosity of the spiritual gift offered by Jesus and the simple response of a demanding but good person.

One might think that Thomas' faith was easy since he had the privilege of seeing Jesus. The same can be said of the other Apostles. We must realize that they recognized something more in Jesus than just a man, namely, God Himself.

The same is true in our case. We are asked to go beyond what we know about the historical Jesus and to rise to faith in Christ-God.

We never attain perfection in our faith in God. One translation of verse 27 reads: 'Do not become incredulous, but believing.' Refusing to believe makes faith more and more difficult. Agreeing to believe makes faith more and more acceptable and living. A change takes place in faith then. We become more and more incredulous or more and more believing.

This fact does have a consequence. A living faith establishes in us a spiritual growth which goes beyond bodily deterioration. The body, after a time of growth, is worn out and dies. Faith, a spiritual reality, grows and becomes more intense to the extent that we want to live by faith. It does not wear out; it develops and unfolds forever.

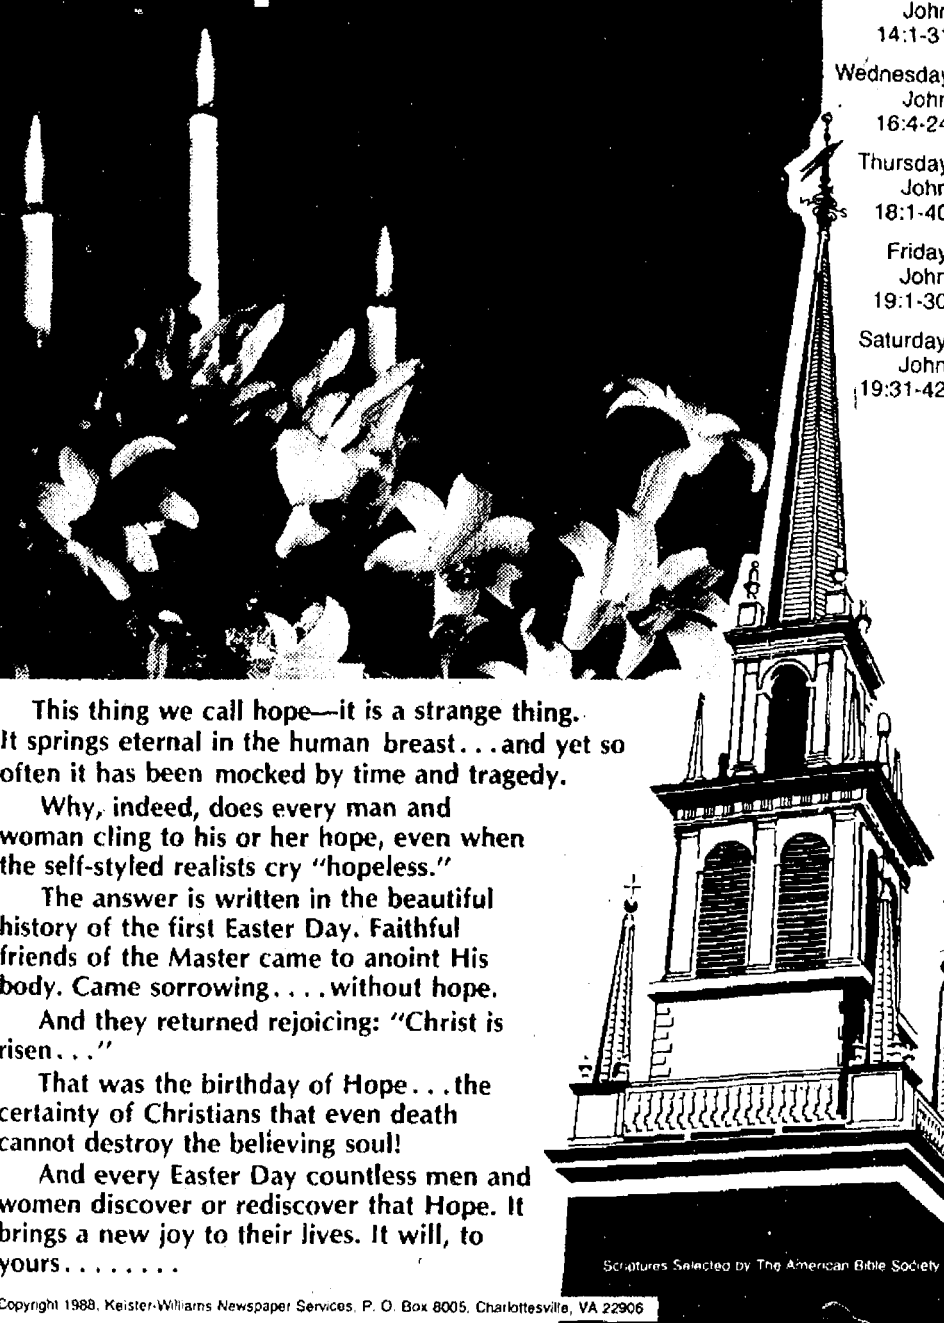

It does so by allowing us to be part of the living God, the source of all life. Nevertheless, it depends on us, on our desire, as to whether we become more believing.

You are encouraged to come to St. Mary's Church to celebrate the Liturgies of the Risen Christ.

The Birthday of Hope

This thing we call hope—it is a strange thing. It springs eternal in the human breast... and yet so often it has been mocked by time and tragedy.

Why, indeed, does every man and woman cling to his or her hope, even when the self-styled realists cry "hopeless?"

The answer is written in the beautiful history of the first Easter Day. Faithful friends of the Master came to anoint His body. Came sorrowing... without hope.

And they returned rejoicing: "Christ is risen..."

That was the birthday of Hope... the certainty of Christians that even death cannot destroy the believing soul!

And every Easter Day countless men and women discover or rediscover that Hope. It brings a new joy to their lives. It will, to yours...

BUDDY'S WORKSHOP

It seems every other year we are replacing our garden hose. Do you have any suggestions on how to make them last longer?

Nothing shortens the life of a hose quicker than leaving it outside during cold weather. Keep your new hose inside during cold weather, and store it as flat as possible. And don't throw away that old hose! Punch some more holes in it, plug up the end, and you'll have a great trickle watering system for your flower garden, shrubbery, or vegetable garden.

Can you think of anything more mouth-watering in the morning than the smell of hot bread for breakfast or hot toasted homemade bread? Try this recipe for nutritious bread made from Shredded Wheat and Grapenuts:

- 1 cup Grapenuts cereal
- 2 Shredded Wheat biscuits, crumbled
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1/2 cup molasses
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 3 teaspoons salt
- 2 cups boiling water
- 2 cups scaled milk
- 1 envelope dry yeast
- 8 or more cups flour

Combine first six ingredients in large bowl. Pour boiling water over, let stand 10 minutes. Add scalded milk and mix. When lukewarm (110-115°) add yeast and dissolve. Add enough flour to form moderately stiff dough. Knead for ten minutes. Let rise in greased bowl. Divide into three parts and form into loaves.

Place in greased pans and allow to rise. Baked at 350 degrees for 45 to 50 minutes. This bread is especially good toasted and it freezes well. Here we have a recipe using frozen dinner rolls which is prepared the night before:

Place about 1/3 cup melted butter or margarine in small, shallow bowl. In another bowl, mix about 1/3 cup sugar and 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon. Using one package

(12) frozen rolls, roll each one in melted butter, then in the sugar mixture and place in an ovenproof bowl. Sprinkle each layer of rolls with chopped walnuts or pecans. Pour any remaining butter or sugar over the top. Cover with plastic wrap, leaving room for rolls to rise, and leave on the counter overnight. In the morning, heat oven and bake according to packaged directions. These can also be baked in one layer in a cake pan.

The same procedure can be used with a package (10) refrigerator biscuits using a round cake pan and overlapping the slices around the pan, then filling in the middle. These, of course, are immediately popped into the oven according to package instructions. Would you like to be able to make white or dark bread? Cheese or French bread? Sour dough or English muffin bread? If you would, send us your name and phone number and if there is enough interest, we may be able to arrange some lessons.

If you have a recipe you would like to share, send it in and we will pass it on to our readers, space permitting. If there is a recipe you are looking for, send us your request and we will try to find it for you. We have many great cooks in our area who would share their recipes with us.

Rhubarb and asparagus seasons will soon be here. Send us your favorite recipes using these Spring foods. Be sure to include your name and telephone number.

Poet's Corner Changes

*I was talking to a lady today.
She gave her age as ninety-two.
She still walked along at a sprightly pace
And her mind was sharp and true.*

*As I was talking to her,
The thought occurred to me
That never again in one person's lifetime
Will there so many changes be.*

*From the days of the horse and buggy
Or the old steam engine trains -
To the days of rocket ships
Or supersonic planes.*

*From the days of the hand-cranked telephone
To satellites high in the air -
Now, you can pick up your telephone
And dial a call most anywhere.*

*From the days of kitchen table surgery -
To the hospitals of today,
With all their modern equipment
To help keep death away.*

*From the first days of radio -
To the televisions, we have today,
That can show us things as they happen
In other lands so far away.*

*There has been no time in human history
When so many changes have taken place,
In any one person's lifetime
As this sweet lady of such grace.*

*But I'll bet this lady
Would trade it all away
If she could regain her days of youth
And return to yesterday.*

Resource Review

Bruce Patrick
Conservation Officer

Events in recent weeks have demonstrated the concern many people have for wildlife. I suspect few people in the state are unaware of the Crawford County bear caper which started with a Report-All Poaching (RAP) hot line complaint reference three small bear cubs left in a telephone-booth. No hint was given as to the fate of the cub's mother, only that they had been found. The cubs were retrieved and after an intense weekend were turned over to a wildlife organization for eventual placement in a zoo or some such institution.

Various media representatives became interested and the story was on the front page of most newspapers statewide. It is believed that the major wire services picked up the story and reported it even further. All of this led to numerous requests from individuals who wanted to raise one or more of the cubs. There is no way they could be placed with an individual, but the concern was there.

Speculation about what happened boiled down to the likelihood that the mother bear had been killed illegally, but no starting point for an investigation was available. Then, publicity in the Bay City area, and the offer of a reward through the RAP program, lead Conservation Officers to the door of a man from that city. At that time, the officers were able to get the man's reason for shooting the bear and parts of the bear that he had removed. The following day he showed the officers the carcass of the bear and explained further what happened.

At the time of this writing, the investigation is continuing with interviews and evidence analysis at the Michigan State Police Crime Lab in Grayling and the DNR laboratory at Rose Lake. Hopefully, by the time this is published, the investigation will be complete and the whole story can be explained.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of those people who showed their concern for the cubs' welfare and who offered assistance in the investigation. Even those who one would not expect to hear from were incensed about the situation and offered information. This just proves that a concerned and involved public can help Conservation Officers control poaching.

List Short if Searching for Yellow Flower Shrub

You can find plenty of shrubs with white, pink, purple, or red flowers, and even quite a few other kinds of plants that produce yellow flowers. But if you want a yellow flowering shrub to add to your plantings, the list is short.

The most popular of this handful of yellow flowering shrubs is about to make its annual appearance in North Carolina, or it may have already in your area of the state. This is forsythia or golden-bell.

Forsythia blooms in early spring before it puts out any leaves. It is easy to grow and a popular choice because of its early blooming habit.

Some other shrubs that produce yellow flowers are winter jasmine, leather-leaf mahonia, Lady Banks rose, wintergreen barberry and Scotch broom.

Winter jasmine sheds its leaves in the fall but remains green throughout the year because of its green bark. The small, yellow flowers of this plant contrast sharply with its green bark. Also, the flowers are a contrast to the winter landscape in which they open.

Wintergreen barberry makes a dense, impenetrable hedge with its thorns and stiff evergreen foliage. It blooms in the spring.

Scotch broom has green stems and small leaves. The flowers are like those of a bean because the plant is a member of the bean family. The most common variety of Scotch broom has dark yellow flowers. It has become naturalized around some old home sites in North Carolina.

Doodles From The Tall Timber

Wendell L. Hoover
Park Intrepreter

In the back of my late father's garage two saws hang on a nail, saws that haven't been used in years, but seeing them again brought back memories of seemingly endless days spent in the woods. Those days revolved around thin bladed razor sharp axes and one man crosscut saws. As I stood there remembering, I could still hear the peculiar sounding thunk of an axe in frozen wood and the vibrant singing of a sharp saw biting into wood, as well as the swish of a falling tree.

How times have changed since I used one of those saws and how much the process and tools had changed even before then. Before 1850 sawlog gangs were cutting up to fifteen big piners a day from which they were cutting seventy-five saw logs that were twenty feet long. Surprisingly, the men working in the woods were still chopping the trees down with axes while the saws in the mills had progressed from the slow up and down muley saw to the gang saws and circular saw.

The saw is a very old tool, but the problem with the early saws was their tendency to jam in the tree. It was faster and perhaps easier therefore to chop the tree down. The problem of jamming or sticking was finally solved by inserting cleaning teeth, or rakers between the cutting teeth to remove the sawdust. According to one source I have the raker-tooth crosscut saw

R & H Sports: Engraving Its Name Across Michigan

From a home-business started in a basement in Grayling, R & H Sports has grown to sell printed apparel, trophies, plaques, and sporting goods all over Michigan and beyond.

Just last week R & H Sports owners Larry and Janet Raymond completed an order headed for Tennessee.

"It all started when we made some jackets with an embroidered emblem on the back for a karate tournament in Jackson, Michigan," said Janet. "Someone wore one of the jackets to a tournament in Pontiac and we received an order for the jacket from there. It kept spreading word of mouth to Indiana, Tennessee, and the last order came from South Carolina."

Most of R & H Sports' business is in northern Michigan providing printed T-shirts, jackets, hats, uniforms, sporting goods, trophies, and awards to sports leagues, festivals, races, and tournaments.

"One of the greatest satisfactions in this business is serving Little Leagues all over northern Michigan in places like Mancelona, Boyne City, Roscommon, Houghton Lake, Lewiston, and Grayling," said Larry. "We've found working with the little ones, the young children to be the most rewarding."

Both Larry and Janet say they enjoy the labor-related service of the business more than the retail end, and they find it especially satisfying being able to reproduce a clever or comical theme for someone.

Over the years, Larry said the Guards have been associated with the most comical awards and T-shirts. But clever drawings and ideas come in from all over — family reunions, treasure hunts, fundraisers, and so forth.

The Raymonds also enjoy being able to fulfill special orders. For example, the recent Rotary Minstrel Show needed something in one day and a guard unit asked for 300 T-shirts before they left for home in three days.

ADDED EQUIPMENT

It wasn't always that way for R & H Sports. They used to have to send away for silk-screen or embroidered items.

Throughout the seven years they have owned the business, the Raymonds have purchased the vertical camera and dark room equipment for silk-screening and an embroidery machine. They also have acquired a Gerber computer system to help with lettering and artwork. They've also built up the sporting goods portion of the business so they have in stock or can order practically any sports item. In recent years, they've ordered everything from batting cages to pitching machines.

The Raymonds acquired the business in December, 1981, from Cal and Julie Walls, who owned it approximately four years. Ray and Helen Pease started R & H Sports (taking their first initials for the name) in the basement of their home located near where the current store is.

The Raymonds came to the area in 1981 to look at buying a hardware store. Larry was a sales manager in Spring Arbor for a tool company and Janet was the assistant office manager for a car dealer in Jackson.

ENJOYED AREA

Both felt there wasn't any room to advance at these businesses and they wanted their own business. They looked at the Grayling area because Janet's family had a cabin here and they had enjoyed snowmobiling, canoeing, and other outdoor activities in the area since 1963.

"One of the reasons we wanted our own business was to have more free time to go canoeing, trout fishing, golfing on weekends, and that sort of thing," said Larry.

"Now we're too busy and have a hard time finding time to do any of those things."

The sports business was a natural for both Larry and Janet. Janet always played sports although not many organized sports were offered at her high school. Larry lettered 4 years in baseball, 3 years in football, and 3 years in basketball at Jackson County Western. He also took up golf after school, had a 190 average in bowling, and played softball.

R & H Sports has grown in the last seven years — they've remodeled the store twice and added an upstairs office and storage area. Three persons work fulltime in the winter and seven in the summer.

The business can handle big and tall orders. A motorcycle race ordered 180 trophies, a ski race ordered 2,000 printed apparel, and a local basketball tournament ordered a six-foot-high trophy.

STATE CHAMPS

Besides being a familiar name around Michigan for its products, R & H Sports has also made its name known by sponsoring sports teams.

In 1983 its mens softball team finished 2nd in the state and in 1985 the R & H Sports team won the state title. R & H has also sponsored women's softball teams, Jr. Pro basketball teams, Little League teams, soccer teams, and as many as 11 bowling teams in one year.

"If it's a youth organized activity, we'll sponsor it," said Larry.
